No man can draw a central figure, and so touch the hearts of the readers with his loys and sorrows unless they come from personal experience and have been fived and felt and soffered. Never during the whole story is Matthew Strang absent from our vision; nothing is told unless Matthew is there to hear it; nothing is seen that we do not see through Matthew's eyes, or, at least, it must be a picture in which he, though distant, is a component factor. General Walker May Be Chairman of the Elections Committee—Tom Reed's Outgivings Unreliable.

ELECTIONS CHAIRMAN.

It is too far in advance to form an idea as to who will be the chairman of the Elections Committee, but it has been suggested that a Republican member from both Virginia and North Carolina shall be assigned to the committee. If this plan is carried out it is quite certain that General James A. Walker, of the Ninth Virginia District, will be asked to serve, and there is some ratks of Congressman Settle, of North Carolina.

Too much stock must not be placed in the utterances of Mr. Tom Reed about going slow in these matters. He will be the Speaker, and at the same time he is a candidate for the presidency, and is known that he is anxious to secure as many delegates as possible from the many contests from Virginia, North Carolina, and other Southern States will enable the Republicans of that section to manipulate him.

Bond Issue.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 30.—
The Treasury gold reserve is intact again, standing to-day, as the result of the recent bond issue, above $103,000,000, and when all the gold is paid in it will reach about $115,000,000.

The Treasury's condition is improving, too, the monthly statement to be issued to-morrow showing, as it will, an increase of $500,000 in receipts for November over October, and a decrease of $5,000,000 in expenses, making the total excess of expenditures over receipts for the fiscal year to December 1st $23,000,000, or at the rate of $4,000,000 a month.

The excess of expenditures over receipts for the month of October was $13,000,000. The excess of expenditures over receipts for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, was about $70,000,000, or nearly $6,000,000 a month.

CHICAGO CUT OFF.

A Frozen Fog Destroys Telegraph Wires in Every Direction.

CHICAGO, H.L. November 30,-So far evening due to her night-clothes igcago has been cut off practically from communication with the outside world since 11 o'clock last night. About 10 since II o'clock last night. About 10 o'clock a soft, drizzling rain began to fall, almost at the same time the weather turned colder, and within a few minutes not only the sidewalles, but the streets themselves, were a glaze of smooth, sippery, and treacherous ice.

This morning very few wires out of this city were working, and these were in such bad condition as to render the transmission of telegrams very slow and uncertain. The weather continued damp and cold, and the trouble became worse, instead of improving.

At noon telegraph officials reported a similar discouraging state of affairs throughout the West and Northwest. The frozen fog or rain has demolished wires in every direction, and several days will be necessary to clear up the wreck. Clear and cold weather is promised for to-morrow. WASHINGTON, D. C., November 30.— Friday is regular Cabinet-day, but there was no meeting of the President's ad-visors to-day, no information as to the reason being given, except that the Presi-dent had decided not to some in from Woodley. "I regard the election of a Republican President in 1895 as a certainty, and I also regard the House of Representatives as safely Republican, but the Senate is close, and every effort should be made to secure a Senate in accord with a Republican Executive. By the election of two Republicans in North Carolina we would likely save the Senate to the party, and thus achieve the grandest and most far-reaching victory yet won by Republicans in the South. With such an opportunity in reach of North Carolina Republicans, it approximates disloyalty to neglect it, especially the long term, which would be a sure strength to the incoming administration.
